

Mr. Pryce Kojo Thompson

Pryce is an avid economist whose remarkable career is marked by a systematic growth in stature. An MSc from the University of Ghana and an MBA from Bradford set him off from Assistant Economic Officer at the Ministry of Finance to the position of Economist with the Management and Investment Consultants Ltd.

Pryce became a consultant for Management Development and productivity Institute (MDPI) between 1980 to 1986. Soon after and for a brief period, he was appointed Deputy Managing Director of the Accra Brewery Ltd. For a straight stretch of seventeen (17) years starting in 1986 Pryce joined the Social Security Bank (now SSB Bank) as Deputy Managing Director and after three (3) years took over the hot seat of Managing Director until 2003. Pryce comes to the Board of TFFS with an immense portfolio of experiences in the corporate arena.
